

APPENDIX A - SCHEDULING	Page 1 of 1
Division of Forensic Science CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES PROCEDURES MANUAL	Amendment Designator:
	Effective Date: 9-December-2003
APPENDIX A - SCHEDULING 1 Schedule I: 1.1 High potential for abuse with no legal medical use in the U.S. 1.2 Examples include: Heroin, MDA, LSD, mescaline, peyote, hashish oil with more than 12% THC, psilocybin, and psilocyn 2 Schedule II: 2.1 High potential for abuse, have some medical use, use may lead to severe dependence 2.2 Examples include: Cocaine, opium, morphine, codeine, oxycodone, PCP, methamphetamine, amphetamine, amobarbital, secobarbital, and pentobarbital 3 Schedule III: 3.1 Lower potential for abuse than Schedule II substances, have a medical use, cause some dependence 3.2 Examples include: Most barbiturates, some codeine preparations, ketamine, phendimetrazine, and anabolic steroids 4 Schedule IV: 4.1 Low potential for abuse, have a medical use, can cause low dependence 4.2 Examples include: Barbital, diazepam, meprobamate, phenobarbital, chlordiazepoxide, pentazocine, and benzodiazepines 5 Schedule V: 5.1 Similar to Schedule IV but less potential for abuse and less dependence 5.2 Examples include: Low concentrations of codeine, ethylmorphine or opium, and numerous cough syrups 6 Schedule VI: 6.1 All other drugs requiring a prescription 6.2 Examples include: Antibiotics, antihistamines, tricyclic antidepressants 6.3 If there is any question as to the scheduling of a particular substance, refer to the current Code of Virginia. If any question still remains, report only the identity of the material and leave the scheduling to the court system. ♦ End	